

PERSONAL STATEMENT GUIDE

Most graduate coursework programs at the Melbourne School of Design (MSD) will require you to submit a personal statement (see individual course requirements for more information).

1

Your personal statement should be no more than 500 words, and address the following questions:

- What is your understanding of the program?
- Why do you want to study this program?
- How do you think this program will help you achieve your career aspirations?

2

You may wish to:

- Provide examples from your prior study and/or work experience
- Include images and details of work you have undertaken

If including examples, please clearly state your roles and responsibilities in the specific project/task.

3

The MSD Selection Committee will also expect that your personal statement is:

- Clear and concise
- Written in English with no grammatical or spelling errors
- Well-structured and considered

NOTE:

Any personal statement found to contain plagiarised content will result in disqualification from course assessment.
