

Anjali Brown
Water Policy and Projects Manager

Creating Space: Innovation from the household to the community

Coburg, VIC

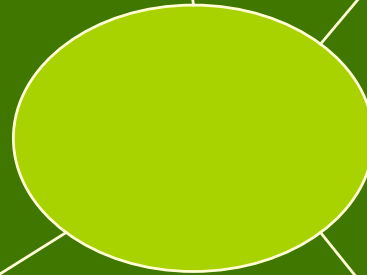

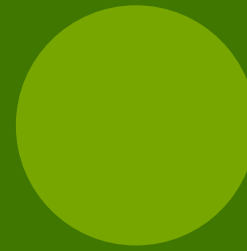

Newtown, NSW

Mandurah, WA

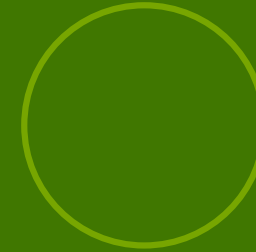

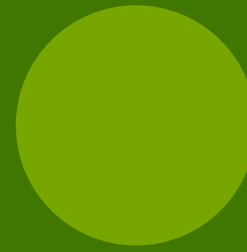

Why is this scale so important?

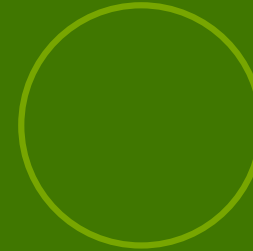

Aggregation,
Adaptation,
Identity.

How do we make this happen?

...by creating, nurturing
and protecting space.

Localised systems' need to develop in a space where;

- community ownership of systems is protected,
- a diversity of responses are nurtured,
- mains supply contracts or billing systems do not punish or discourage local solutions,
- third party regimes and trading schemes complement community water management,
- regulations and policies protect rather than restrict innovative systems.